
offering private Chinese tutoring service

Posted by teriseng - 2008/02/20 15:33

Hi, everybody!

Do you want to learn to speak some daily life Chinese to make your life in China easier? It is not difficult and won't take you much time.

I am a postgraduate student in Soochow University and my major is Chinese. I have been teaching foreigners Chinese for 2 years. And with my help, many foreigners can use Chinese in daily life now.

You can choose the time and place of your lessons. And you can also have lessons with your family or friends.

If you need some help in translation, I can also help.

If you are interested in it, contact me

shenglijj@gmail.com

Re:offering private Chinese tutoring service

Posted by anita - 2008/03/19 14:55

Hi, Teri!

I am interested in learning Chinese. Are you still available to teach now? And can you tell me some details about your teaching.

Thank you!

Re:offering private Chinese tutoring service

Posted by teriseng - 2008/03/20 08:50

Hi, Anita!

Nice to hear from you!

About my lessons, you can choose the place and the time as you wish. You can also have lessons with your friends, which will make the average fee more economical.

I will make a learning plan for you depending on your current Chinese level and your target in the future. Of course, I will listen to your requirements on teaching because different people may have different ways to learn a language. I will try my best to help you make a best personalized plan to learn Chinese.

You can also contact me directly: shenglijj#gmail.com

Thank you!
